Frontend Developer

Profile

I have a degree in Biomedical Scientist and worked for several years in laboratory environments, developing skills in data analysis, process optimization, stock management, and quality control. My passion for technology led me to study Computer Engineering, and I am now transitioning into Frontend Development.

My background in process and stock management has strengthened my ability to organize and optimize workflows, which I now apply to software development. I am eager to learn, take on new challenges, and contribute to innovative projects.
